

Micah 4:1-8

A Promised Future

A painting of a single tree in a field under a textured, yellowish-green sky. The tree is positioned on the right side of the frame, with its trunk and branches rendered in a soft, painterly style. The ground is a mix of brown and green, suggesting a field or meadow. The sky is a mottled, textured wash of yellow and green, with some darker spots and lines, giving it a sense of depth and atmosphere.

Micah

Micah and the Millennium

¹ In the last days

⁶ “In that day,” declares the LORD,

⁷ . . . The LORD will rule over them in Mount Zion from that day and forever.

⁸ As for you, watchtower of the flock, stronghold of Daughter Zion, the former dominion will be restored to you; kingship will come to Daughter Jerusalem.”

Micah

Jesus' promise to the disciples

²⁸ Jesus said to them, "I tell you the truth, at the renewal of all things, when the Son of Man sits on his glorious throne, you who have followed me will also sit on twelve thrones, judging the twelve tribes of Israel.

(Matthew 19:28)

Micah

Revelation 20:4

4 I saw thrones on which were seated those who had been given authority to judge. And I saw the souls of those who had been beheaded because of their testimony about Jesus and because of the word of God. . . . They came to life and reigned with Christ a thousand years.

Micah

Our “take-aways” this morning:

1. God's has a design for his world
2. God's has given a promise to his people
3. We have a choice today

A faint, artistic illustration of a tree with a thick trunk and a rounded, bushy canopy, standing in a field. The background is a soft, textured wash of yellow and green, suggesting a sunrise or sunset over a landscape.

Micah

Jesus promise to believers

²⁹ And everyone who has left houses or brothers or sisters or father or mother or wife or children or fields for my sake will receive a hundred times as much and will inherit eternal life.

Micah

The background is a textured, mottled yellowish-green color, resembling aged paper or a watercolor wash. A small, dark silhouette of a tree is positioned on the right side of the lower half of the image. The word "Micah" is written in a black, cursive script in the bottom right corner.

Micah